

Snowflake

David Dunn

You never stop with just one snowflake
Though one is miracle enough, uh-huh
You throw them down like You wont run out
A picture of how You love

There's a trillion, billion, hundred thousand floating in the sky

That's how big, that's how big Your love is
And that's how wide, that's how wide Your love is
And every time I look up at a winter night
I see Your love falling down, filling up the sky

Beauty coming down around me, yeah
A hurricane of stars falling down, mmm
And I am blinded by glory and the power
It's like touching heaven from the ground, mmm

There's a trillion, billion, hundred thousand floating in the sky

That's how big, that's how big Your love is
And that's how wide, yeah, that's how wide Your love is
And every time, yeah, I look up at a winter night
I see Your love falling down, filling up the sky

There's a trillion, billion, hundred thousand floating in the sky
There's a trillion, billion, hundred thousand perfect reasons why
In the heartache, in the ashes
There is beauty, there is magic
There's a trillion, billion, hundred thousand reasons in the sky

That's how big, that's how big Your love is
And that's how wide...

That's how big, that's how big Your love is
And that's how wide, yeah, that's how wide Your love is
And every time, yeah, I look up at a winter night
I see Your love falling down, filling up the sky
I see Your love falling down, filling up the sky
Oh-woah... yeah...
