

If You Only Knew

David Ford

If you only knew,
Just how we feel about you,
You couldn't hurt like you do.
And if you only knew,
How everybody loves you,
You wouldn't feel so alone.
Well everybody's looking,
Oh what must they be thinking?
Oh what must they be thinking?
And every glance, and every shrug and gesture,
It has another meaning,
Oh what must they be thinking?
Well I know what i think..
That If You Only Knew,
Just how we feel about you,
You couldn't hurt like you do.
And if you only knew,
How everybody loves you,
You wouldn't feel so alone.
On every tongue a whisper,
Oh I know what they're saying,
Yeah I know what they're saying,
Do you see that face, it says "you have no right to be"...
Oh what must they be thinking?
Oh what must they be thinking?
Well i know what i think...
If you only knew,
Just how we feel about you,
You couldn't hurt like you do.
And if you only knew,
How good it is to see you,
You wouldn't feel so alone...
And on one day,
You may find that you're no different,
But 'til that day,
We see you waste your days away.
But if you only knew,
Just how we feel about you,
You couldn't hurt like you do.
And if you only knew,
Just how good it feels to see you,
You wouldn't feel so alone...
Don't you feel so all alone.
