

It's You

David Gates

Who's the one who's always there to comfort me with love and care
Who runs the finger through my hair guess who guess who Who's always first to understand when we can't do the things we planned
And whose is always reaching out with a smiling helping hand
It's you it's you it's you baby always has been always will be you
There's no one else can do baby all the little love and things you do

When I think I can't take no more that crazy world outside my door
Who makes it all were fighting for guess who oh guess who
Who every night before I sleep loves me long and loves me deep
Turns the loneliness away and helps my memories ski
It's you it's you it's you baby always has been always will be you
Cause there's no one else can do baby all the little love and things you do

And who every night before I sleep loves me long and loves me deep
Turns my loneliness away and helps my memories ski
It's you it's you it's you baby always has been always will be you
Cause there's no one else can do baby all the little love and things you do
Oh it's you it's you it's you baby always has been always will be you
Cause there's no one else can do baby all the little love and things you do
It's you it's you it's you baby always has been always will be you
