David Houston

Arms wouldn't you like to hold her
Don't you know she'd feel so warm right next to you Lips wouldn't you like to kiss her or would you tell her lies t he way you used to do

But it's all over over all except the loneliness that gets to y ou somehow

Over over might as well admit that it's all over now

Eyes wouldn't you like just to see him walk through that door a nd end this lonely night

Heart wouldn't you like to start living
And know for sure that things would turn out right
But it's all over over...
