

I'm Coming Home

David Phelps

I'm back again
Your wayward child
I was gone so long i thought
That you'd forgotten me
But here I am
And not for just a little while
I've been confused and so
Alone, so if you'll take me back
I'm coming home
I Walked away
From what I knew
I shut out the truth you told
Me and believed
The lies instead
But that was yesterday
And if you'll let me stand
With you
Back to back against the foe,
I'll never leave you, lord
I'm coming home
I'm coming home
I'm coming back to where
I'm loved, where I'm wanted,
Where I'm known
I'm coming home,
I'm coming home
I'm coming back 'cause it's the
Only place I've never felt alone
I'm coming home
Life can be cruel
Oh, I've been shown
It can steal your dreams and
Watch them die in front of you
I'm such a fool
To think I'd make it
On my own
Father please forgive my soul.
I need you, need you now
I'm coming home
I'm coming home
I'm coming back to where
I'm loved, where I'm wanted,
Where I'm known
I'm coming home,
I'm coming home
I'm coming back 'cause it's the
Only place I've never felt alone
I have wasted so much time
Wandering, searching, running
I can't live without your love,
Jesus, I am coming home
I'm coming home
I'm coming home
I'm coming back to where
I'm loved, where I'm wanted,
Where I'm known
I'm coming home,

I'm coming home
I'm coming back 'cause it's the
Only place I've never felt alone
I'm coming home
