Forevermore

David Ryan Harris

These are just the first two steps of fading first it's in your voice and now it's trailing then it's in your smile the sweetest fading
I feel your desposition changing

Just tell me this is still where I belong?
Just tell me i'm wrong
I'll put my passion and close that door
And we'll get back to our Forevermore

I can't look at you it hurts too much to Like a ghost,your hair,but I can't touch you
No,No...
Just pretend your blind and you can't see me

Is best we drift apart and sail on freely

Baby come on and tell me this is still where I belong?
Just tell me i'm wrong
I'll put my passion and close the door
And we'll get back to our Forevermore

Tell me this is still where I belong?
Just tell me that i'm wrong
I'll put my passion and close that door
And we'll get back to our We'll get back to our
We'll get back to our Forevermore
