

Errors

Dawin

The sound of your voice
Is therapy to my ears
There's no other one
That I am wishing to hear
A touch from your hand
Would always make me see clear
My feelings are blurred
Now that you're not here

I learned my lesson
When I let you go
Broken and hurting
You and me both
I learned my lesson
When I let you go
But this one mistake proves
That I care much more

I know I made these errors
I know I made these errors

I stopped calling back
So I could reach for the stars
Then I realized
We weren't meant to be apart
Selfish and wrong
Only you could help with my flaws
Above everything
I gotta fix the damage I caused

I learned my lesson
When I let you go
Broken and hurting
You and me both
I learned my lesson
When I let you go
But this one mistake proves
That I care much more

I know I made these errors
I know I made these errors

Our story was drama and non-fiction
The page that I need most now is missing
Where you and I get together and fix things
Even though this pain was a self infliction
'Cause you played your party right but I was always acting naughty
I was on the come up and got caught up in the party
Now I'm reminiscing waking up to you beside me
Don't you blah blah blah, don't you blah blah blah me

Cause I learned my lesson
When I let you go
You and me both
I learned my lesson
When I let you go

But this one mistake proves
That I care much more

I know I made these errors
I know I made these errors
I know I made these errors
I know I made these errors
