

Event Horizon

Dawn of Solace

I had a choice, an another way
Each direction where the wind relays
My words conveyed by the air
Disconnection and silence so I stayed here

Nowhere to go, nothing to ease the pain
I had a choice to make but I am still here

Can I see beyond the dark
Of the event horizon? Stars colliding
Can I feel a thousand suns burning bright inside me?
From dust to rise and ashes to burn
Burn

Where is the promised new world
Domain of Eden
Fields of cinders, gardens of fire
Deserted shelter

Can I see beyond the dark
Of the event horizon? Stars colliding
Can I feel a thousand suns burning bright inside me?
From dust to rise and ashes to burn
