A word that break things off
Laughter that chips away

With everything depleted
I was trembling

The temperature of my heart is dropping
As I was slowly freezing up
You ran to me and embraced me with fervor

You, who is looking at me
With caring eyes
With you saying
"You've done a lot today, too"

Uncontrollably
I am melting down softly
The moment that you've
Revived my dying heart miraculously

Warm tears
Are streaming down
That smile you have
Enables me to hang in there again

Don't worry, it's okay
I'm next to you
Those words you say
Make me get up again

As if it was an incredible coincidence
You've appeared
With both arms open
Hugging (welcome)
While smiling

Uncontrollably
I am melting down softly
The moment that you've
Revived my dying heart miraculously

Warm tears
Are streaming down
That smile you have
Enables me to hang in there again

You're my luck, nothing but a surprise
Now it's my turn
Love you hold you give you all I got

Uncontrollably
I am melting down softly
The moment that you've
Revived my dying heart miraculously

Warm tears
Are streaming down
That smile you have
Enables me to hang in there again
