

Broken Bone

Dayglow

Let's take off where we had left it
I've got a brand new perspective
Take my broken bone and mend it
Tell me all the times you've acted
Lately, I've been so distracted
I just wanted some reaction
But I could die today

Taking it off where we had left it
I've been given a brand-new perspective
Taking my mended bone and break it
I've been feeling like a hedonistic
Thought that I had my shot and missed it
Sending myself into the mystic land

But oh, where did I go?
Did I even let myself see the show?
'Cause I wanna see now
Ah, and oh, it's hard to believe
That all of this time I've been waiting on me
But I wanna leave now
I never knew it 'til I lost it

Maybe let's take an intermission
I think I need some demolition
Blowing my mind from indecision
Taking myself back to the basic
Throwing away my entertainment
Sending myself into the ancient land

But oh, how can you know?
How can you break yourself out of the mold?
'Cause I wanna breathe now
Ah, and oh, I wanna believe there's something else out there for me
Oh, I wanna be now
Like a flower growing through the concrete
