

Stops Making Sense

Dayglow

With a one way ticket out of town
You headed to the station
Then suddenly that sound
Placed you in a rather strange situation

You were singing so out loud
I even hear it now
People wandering around
Without a clue what to do with you

When it feels like falling down
Your feet on the ceiling head on the ground
Somehow, it got turned around
That feeling you get when it stops making sense, yet it's right
It feels so right

Oh man you got to believe me 'cause I wasn't dreaming
And I saw the strangest thing last night
Yeah there were all of these people and none of them thinking
And none of them strangely seemed to mind

Oh man, it really freaked me out
You know I'm not going to lie
It's like standing in a crowd
And not knowing why

Oh when it feels like falling down
Your feet on the ceiling head on the ground
Somehow, it got turned around
That feeling you get when it stops making sense, yet it's right
It feels so right

Oh when it feels like falling down
Your feet on the ceiling head on the ground
Somehow, it got turned around
That feeling you get when it stops making sense yet it's right
It feels so right
It feels so right
It feels so right
