

Turn Around

Dayglow

Feels like it hit me on the head But saw it from a mile away
It's probably time I let it in
Been feeling this a while this way
When everything is always something to me I can't seem to

Turn around, turn around
Turn around, turn around

I can't recall it what you said
But it was kinda heavy, oh no
Yeah it was close along the lines of "You can't be ready, so let it go"

Yet everything is never slowing down
I can't find time to

Turn around, turn around
Turn around, turn around

I sure could use some sleep
But I'm still working in my dreams I keep on, keep on

Turning around, turn around
Turn around, turn around

It's time I do this, time I prove this
Time I make this shot for me
I'll find the answer, only dancing
Find myself at 23
It's time I move this, time I'm through this
All this weight that's down on me
I'll Make some progress being honest
Make this weight a memory

Turn around, turn around
Turn around and turn around
