

I Wait

Daylight Dies

Things in this world
Seem so far away
Once again i wonder
Where i am

Somewhere someone's
Speaking
But i cannot hear

And once again it all
Falls apart
But still i wait here trying
To find some remnant of myself

My days a dull aching
Please tell me what
I'm waiting for

All my days are fading into one
All my days are fading
All my days are fading into one
All my days are fading away

Things in this world
Have never seems so gray
Once again i wonder
What i've become

Somewhere something's breaking
This world's so dead
When i cannot feel
What's in my head

But still i wait here trying
To find some remnant of myself

My days a dull aching
Please tell me what
I'm waiting for
