

Arcane Drifter

Days N' Daze

I have been to the edge of the world and back again
You have seen the very worst of humanity
How did we get this far away from ourselves and who we are
Your skin it shines so bright in the death of the dark moon light

As the morning blue draws closer you say you hate the rising sun
Lullabies of innocence
Scarred by selfish lies
No sleep could undo what's done
No drug could make this pass
Dig your nails into my palms
And feel my steady pulse
Until there's nothing left but torn flesh

Your eyes they speak a thousand words
I've seen them once before
Remenants of a life once led
Now sung as lovers lore
Arcane drifter from my past
Cradle me in your words
Your touch it pierces through my soul
And yearns for something more
With this love there is no end
We'll take this word and conquer it

Run away as fast as you can
All the towers are falling or they'll crush us to death

Run away as fast as you can
I'll meet you at the end

Arcane drifter from my past
Cradle me in your words
Your touch it pierces through my soul
And yearns for something more
With this love there is no end
We'll take this world and conquer it