

Homesick

Dayseeker

Meet me where the lines blur together
It's 4 AM and I can't sleep
You're the only thing that felt forever
Waiting for the mourning to be over
But it's all I have now

I'm love sick, love sober
You left the light on when I had a broken heart
I'm love sick, love sober
Waiting for the mourning to be over
But it's all I have now

I was free in the fall, now I'm lost in the moment
I can breathe through the night even when it is hopeless
You make me feel homesick

You're my defense when I'm bleeding
You followed me through hell and back
Cover me in gold when I need it
Waiting for the mourning to be over
But it's all I have now

I was free in the fall, now I'm lost in the moment
I can breathe through the night even when it is hopeless
You make me feel homesick
You make me feel homesick

I was free in the fall, now I'm lost in the moment

I was free in the fall, now I'm lost in the moment
I can breathe through the night even when it is hopeless
You make me feel homesick
You make me feel homesick

I was free in the fall, now I'm lost in the moment
I can breathe when it is hopeless
