Winter

Daysend

What is a life like to you
And though she never knew
They said she feels like you do
They said she feels like
And now it’s warmer today
Cold is still on her way
Find your way to my heart
Walk up the walls to find a purpose
I know the reason why I will not stand tall
Don’t close the door to hide the curtains
I need to see the winter and I will not be heard
Why is there fools pride at stake
Why does she have to remain
When it’s still further today
When it’s still further today
Said she’s still like you knew
They said she
Fears
Find your way to my heart
Walk up the walls to find a purpose
I know the reason why I will not stand tall
Don’t close the door to hide the curtains
I need to see the winter
And I will not be heard
