Baby, let me roll with you, we throwing fadeaways
Let me smoke with you, we'll blow this Mary Jane
I'll crack some jokes with you, we sweet as candy cane
Let me call my stylist to help you maintain

Ay

You show me what's real and I'ma show you how to deal with me
You say you my twin, better come and split the steal with me
Speedin' in the 'Rari, I can tell you feelin' me
If I see a frown, the only time that you killin' me

I told you if I leave, if I leave, if I leave, it's gon' be alright,
yeah

You tellin' me you needin' new things when I leave just to miss my flight

Let me turn that frown upside down

I told you you look better when you smile

We been on this part for a while

You tellin' me you need me right now

I dress you up and fly you out for fashion week, yeah

You write them poems about me like you rap to me, yeah

You hardbody, but you actin' sad for me

Let me kiss you down your back and then you make it clap for me (Clap, clap)

Kiss you on your private island, now we havin' beach sex (Beach sex)

At the time you climax, the water get your feet wet (Feet wet)

I like how you did with me, take me away from leeches

I gave you your own vibes, so how can we be deep breaths? Yeah

One, two, three, four, eeny, meeny, miny, moe

I told you pick a boat, we caught the wave and stayed afloat

All we do is ball, we never fall, that's why they call us goats

I'm your Superman, pick you up off of your toes (Yes)

I know you hate it every time that I'm away

And every time I have to go, you tell, "Stay."

A thousand times I told you it's gon' be OK (Yes)

At the end of the day, babe

I told you if I leave, if I leave, if I leave, it's gon' be alright,
yeah

You tellin' me you needin' new things when I leave just to miss my flight

Let me turn that frown upside down

I told you you look better when you smile

We been on this part for a while

You tellin' me you need me right now

Yeah, tellin' me you need me right now

Yeah, yeah, tellin' me you need me right now
