

So Damn Dangerous

Dea Matrona

Red leather looks better on a sinner in the summer
And temperatures are rising
But I feel I'm going under
Your sunglasses don't hide the look behind your eyes or my sins
Well, think I'm falling for you

You're so damn dangerous
And it's driving me crazy
Yeah, you make my heart rush
And it's driving me crazy
Yeah, it's driving me, driving me, so wild

Words unspoken, we both know the cost of our emotions
And still I'm longing and I know I can't control it
Your confidence
You wear it as a mask but you know I can tell that You're as unsure as me

You're so damn dangerous
And it's driving me crazy
Yeah, you make my heart rush
And it's driving me crazy
Yeah, it's driving me, driving me, so wild

You're like a loaded gun that's pointing right at me (frustration)
Oh, with your kryptonite I fall down on my knees (damnation)
You're like a shiny apple hanging from the tree (temptation)
But I know poison when I see it, it's looking right at me

You're so damn dangerous
And it's driving me crazy
Don't want to be in love
And it's driving me crazy
Why do I always fall
For the ones that'll wreck me
I'm so naive because
When you call me your baby
Like a puppet on a string, oh, I'd do anything, oh

You're so damn dangerous
It's just the thrill of the chasing
Oh, I've already lost
When it's you I'll be facing
And it's driving me, driving me, so wild
