

Hallucinating

Dead Eyes

If I fell into a relapse, would you even hesitate
To sign the dotted line that says "do not resuscitate"?
I hear your voice like an angel calling out my name
If the devil returned my soul to me, I'd probably sell it back
again

It's haunting my head like a daydream again
Is everything I know just make-believe?
The voices take control of everything
Am I hallucinating?
I feel it again, crawling under my skin
Tell that it's all just make-believe
The chemicals are coursing through my veins
Am I hallucinating?

I try to take a breath, but I start to panic more
Fluorescent lights dilate my eyes, just like a fucking morgue
I hear your voice, like an angel calling out my name
If the devil returned my soul to me, I'd probably sell it back
again

It's haunting my head like a daydream again
Is everything I know just make-believe?
The voices take control of everything
Am I hallucinating?
I feel it again, crawling under my skin
Tell that it's all just make-believe
The chemicals are coursing through my veins
Am I hallucinating?

I hear your voice call out my name
Like an angel there to save me
I look into the devil's face
Am I hallucinating?

It's haunting my head like a daydream again
Is everything I know just make-believe?
The voices take control of everything
I feel it again, crawling under my skin
Tell that it's all just make-believe
The chemicals are coursing through my veins
Am I hallucinating?
