

The Real You

Dead Letter Circus

Come on, you're not this forgiving
Come on, you're not here for the living
Have you ever seen my face
Have you ever seen this place, with your own eyes?

Hey you there
Show me the real you
Here in the physical
Because I see right through
This new millennial you
Show me the real you
Here in the physical
In my peripheral

Hold on, you're not this fulfilling
Hold on, there's something you're missing
Have you ever shown your face
In its original worn state, in your own life?

Hey you there
Show me the real you
Here in the physical
Because I see right through
This new millennial you
Show me the real you
Here in the physical
Because I see right through
This new millennial you
In my peripheral

Show me the real you
Just one thing that you have inside that's true
Is this the real you?
Or something you have analysed and proved?
Cause it's all the same
Every single day
It's time to leak disguise
The future to shine

Show me the real you
Here in the physical
Because I see right through
This new millennial you
Show me the real you
Here in the physical
Because I see right through
This new millennial you
Wake up now
I see evidence in you
