

Everything's Going On

Dead Meadow

To sit so still in the endless swirl the mountains thought firm like clouds they whirl Everything's going on the ever open palm of the world A healthy baby born couldn't stop crying a man that died softly smiling Everything's going on
you can't blame me for trying With the places you go and all the faces you show Everything's going on
You might never know