

A New Era

DeadLock

I see the ruins of wasted years - left behind to die
I feel the silence closing in and I watch the stars collide

Let us dream and try to breathe
Though all life in us is dead
Memories - will I awake when I fall asleep?
There are no more roads to run
No one is there when you're falling down
This is a new era

I see the ruins of wasted years - left behind to die
I feel the silence closing in and I watch the stars collide

Tragedy strikes - suddenly -
I don't know how to escape this
I don't need no one to tell me who to be
There are no more roads to run
Another pale hope for life is gone
This is a new era

See my scars right here
The most regrettable fear
See my scars right here
Melted out of memories
Carved in ivory skin

I see the ruins of wasted years - left behind to die
I feel the silence closing in and I watch the stars collide
