

Fire

DeadLock

Sometimes the words of other people not having the same outlook on life are like bees having one sting you is not a real problem but when thousands sting you your attitude is exposed to danger but just like a bee-sting these words can insult you just once and sooner or later you will send every attack back to them so they have to expect to get their fingers burned if they want to play with fire
