

Everything's Better

Dean Brody

This would be a nowhere town
The sun go up, the sun go down
Wouldn't have a clue what I was missin'
Wouldn't be no lips 'round here worth kissin'
Baby, you're the icin' on the cake
The sugar in my lemonade
The honey in the honeysuckle growin' on a vine
Makin' me dizzy as homemade wine

Because a night feels a little hotter
And my heart beats a little harder
And it's true whenever I've got your hand
To hold on to
Yeah, them stars shine a little brighter
And them songs sound a little louder
Yeah, life's better than ever
Everything's better, everything's better with you

It's just an empty shotgun seat
You ain't right here next to me
So hit me with that sexy, little strawberry smile
Lovin' every minute and every mile

Well, this night feels a little hotter
And my heart beats a little harder
And it's true, girl, whenever I've got your hand
To hold on to
Yeah, them stars shine a little brighter
And them songs sound a little louder
Yeah, life's better than ever
Everything's better, everything's better with you
You

Yeah, this night feels a little hotter
And my heart beats a little harder
And it's true, girl, whenever I've got your hand
To hold on to
Well, them stars shine a little brighter
And them songs sound a little louder
Yeah, life's better than ever
Everything's better, everything's better with you
You
You, yeah
Everything's better, everything's better with you
You, yeah
You, girl
Everything's better, everything's better with you