

Moonlight Girl

Dean Brody

Here every morning, I wake up with, cobwebs in my brain
Cause baby, you got me workin' double time all night, keeping me awake
Spend all day with ya on my phone
Just can't wait to get back home
That screen door baby let it slam behind you and me, just you and me

All I wanna do is dance you 'neath that silver moon
In that alfalfa field out back
Climb the ladder in the barn, hold you in my lovin' arms
Wish on every falling star we can
You're my moonlight girl, girl

Sweet magnolia, coyote howlin', warm kisses on your cheek
Honey, you got me wantin', I chase you laughing tumble down all over me
Girl, I crave you all day long
Watching the clock to get back home
Thinking of you in that door so pretty waitin' on sunset
Daydreaming for sunset

All I wanna do is dance you 'neath that silver moon
In that alfalfa field out back
Climb the ladder in the barn, hold you in my lovin' arms
Wish on every falling star we can
You're my moonlight girl, girl
My moonlight girl, girl

You know dawn is coming out sleepyhead
And that office is callin' me back
I know your eyes are heavy, you're layin' on my chest
But how 'bout one more time, baby take my hand

All I wanna do is dance you 'neath that silver moon
In that alfalfa field out back
Climb the ladder in the barn, hold you in my lovin' arms
Wish on every falling star we can
You're my moonlight girl, girl
My moonlight girl, girl
Sweet moonlight girl
My sweet moonlight girl
