

Secret Place

Dean Geyer

I was young then
But I remember when
When I'd need to hide away

I had a secret place I'd go
Where I could just be on my own
And I didn't feel afraid

But even though I'm older now and things have changed
When I'm in your arms I'm right back there again

You're the place that I can run to
When I need somewhere to hide
You're my compass and my lifeline
All wrapped into one
You're where I feel safe
You're my secret place
You're my secret place

When no one understands
And I feel like half a man
And I can't make it through the day

When nothing's making sense
And my soul is bruised and bent
And I've lost all of my faith

You always seem to find a way to get me through
All I know is I'm a better man with you

You're the place that I can run to
(You're where I belong)
When I need somewhere to hide
(The road that takes me home)
You're my compass and my lifeline
All wrapped into one
You're where I feel safe
You're my secret place
You're my secret place

You're my only shelter from the rain
You're the silver lining to my grey
And when the storm is over
You're the sunlight on my face
You're the dream I try to chase

You're the place that I can run to
(You're where I belong)
When I need somewhere to hide
(The road that takes me home)
You're my compass and my lifeline
All wrapped into one
You're where I feel safe
You're my secret place
You're my secret place
