

Something To Help

Dean Lewis

I was walking through your front door
Avoiding all the cracks in the floor
You know I'm superstitious like that
You roll your eyes and you turn away
I don't know how it got like this
Oh, baby, can we go back? Mmm

There is a moment you can cut with a knife
And you're looking so lovely at the end of the night
Now you're speaking so softly, the city's alive
But are you lonely? (Mmm)

'Cause I'm in love with somebody
And you're in love with somebody else
But you don't need to say sorry
No, you don't need to say something to help

'Cause I'm in love with somebody
To say something to help
'Cause I'm in love with somebody
To say something to help

We fell apart in a simple way
No fireworks or dramatic appeal
And burned out as I watched you change

But there was a moment on the day that we met
You looked from your shoulder, I'll never forget
Now anywhere I go, you're still in my head
Are you lonely? (Mmm)

'Cause I'm in love with somebody
And you're in love with somebody else
But you don't need to say sorry
No, you don't need to say something to help
'Cause I'm in love with somebody
And you're in love with somebody else
But you don't need to say sorry
No, you don't need to say something to help

'Cause I'm in love with somebody
No, you don't need to say something to help
'Cause I'm in love with somebody
No, you don't need to say something to help me

Something to talk
Say nothing at all
No need to hold on, take your time
Why don't you ease your restless mind?
