

Any Man Who Loves His Mother

Dean Martin

Any man who loves his mother
Is man enough for me
Brightening her eyes, sending her flowers
Though it's no anniversary

Many men want fame and fortune
It's gold they love to see
But I say a man who loves his mother
Is man enough for me

Many men loves dogs and kittens and pet them constantly
Show me a man who loves his mother
As much as she wants to be
And I'll show you a man who's a lot like me