

Turn Those Wheels Around

Deana Carter

Sun's going down on a whole lot of love tonight
Watching those taillights take you out of my life
I should have known better that to lay it all on the line
How could a boy like you pass through this heart of mine?

William, won't you turn those wheels around?
I sure could use a little bit of you, it'd go a long long way r ight now
I can't be just another little piece of the road you're going d own
William, turn those wheels around

When that sun comes up, you're gonna find That what you need is what you're leaving behind
My tears have fallen in your dust
Can you hear me calling, what happened to us?

William, won't you turn those wheels around?
I sure could use a little bit of you, it'd go a long long way r ight now
I can't be just another little piece of the road you're going d
own
William, turn those wheels around

William, won't you turn those wheels around?
I sure could use a little bit of you, it'd go a long long way r ight now
I can't be just another little piece of the road you're going d
own
William, turn those wheels around

Won't you turn those wheels around?
