

Better Run

Dear Valley

Nice to meet you, I'm so glad you had me in I'm looking forward to a future on the in
Now please excuse me, just before you whip it out
I already know way too much about

And even worse than that, I let you rub my back
You asked me to return the love and I said no and you cracked
And when you offered me some wine it was so sketch
Oh Lord, I know that there just had to be a catch

Boy, you better run for your life
Because I'm mad
Boy, you better run for your life
Because I'm really mad

Boy, you better run for your life
Don't be mad
Boy, you better run

Buddy, you done wrong just one too many times
Boy, I've had enough of all your dirty lies
I got no sympathy when alligators cry
Now that your castle's crumbled, everyone can sigh

Not sure how you thought you'd get away with that Abused your powers, now the empire strikes back
We burned your kingdom down, we've lit it with a match
You've got no allies left, you made sure of that

Boy, you better run for your life
Because I'm mad
Boy, you better run for your life
Because I'm really mad

Boy, you better run for your life
Don't be mad
Boy, you better run

I was so certain that I would be okay
That when you pulled it out, I would know what to say
But now I'm standing here frozen like a corpse
Oh please, oh no, I don't, don't, pull down your shorts

I'll get it all done to testify you did
Everybody testified to your sins
How we let you go this long, I'll never know
But now, oh now, it's time, it's really time to go

Boy, you better run for your life
Because I'm mad
Boy, you better run for your life
Because I'm really mad

Boy, you better run for your life
Don't be mad
Boy, you better run

Boy, you better run for your life
Because I'm mad
Boy, you better run for your life
Because I'm really mad

Boy, you better run for your life
Don't be mad
Boy, you better run
