Fake Frowns

Death Cab for Cutie

Bent at the knees, a last resort
Backfired and made things worse
Once on the bus, it was quite possible
You'd be the jail house queen

Jury and judge were screaming to hang You spat the sweat from brow He shrugged his shoulders, nothing would work It had to end right now

I can't drive straight Counting your fake frowns

Focusing in, details a must Trying to make each one count All on your fingers stopping at ten Magistrate keyed in now

Jury and judge were screaming to hang You spat the sweat from brow He shrugged his shoulders, nothing would work It had to end right now

I can't drive straight Counting your fake frowns I can't drive straight Counting your fake frowns

We can't keep your interest now In increasing pixels and sound We can't keep your interest now Increasing pixels and sound

Jury and judge were screaming to hang You spat the sweat from brow He shrugged his shoulders, nothing would work It had to end right
