

Sink

Death Plus

Outside when the wind stops blowing
On the ice where the water stays frozen
And no one ever keeps the doors open
Everybody's gone, as far as I can notice
The leaves roll right past
Just a metaphor for how I'm watching life pass
I'm on the other side but I'm coming right back
But I want to stay

The things that I ask make you long
The things that I say make you run
Far away from the thoughts in your mind
To make you feel like you like you don't wanna be alive

Everything has fallen apart for the last time tonight
And everything has fallen apart for the last time
And everything has fallen apart for the last time tonight
And everything has fallen apart for the last time

I said I wanted to be
I said I wanted to be alone
That's all that you talk to me
That's all that you talk to me, [?]
Said that I wanted to leave
I could have killed your dreams
All in the minute you wanted to meet

The things that I ask make you long
The things that I say make you run
Far away from the thoughts in your mind
To make you feel like you like you don't wanna be alive

And all I can ask is your love
And all I could want is your trust
And all I could feel was your touch
I thought that you could kill with your lust

The things that I ask make you long
The things that I say make you run
Far away from the thoughts in your mind
To make you feel like you like you don't wanna be alive

And all I can ask is your love
And all I could want is your trust
And all I could feel was your touch
I thought that you could kill with your lust

I said I wanted to be
I said I wanted to be alone
That's all that you talk to me
That's all that you talk to me, [?]
Said that I wanted to leave
I could have killed your dreams
All in the minute you wanted to meet
