

DeathWish

DeathbyRomy

He said don't sugar coat things
My brain's made of poison
And I've been on my own for
All my years, I'm losing touch of love
You were the one, I swore, but now I know
It's done forever more
I've been here darling, please just go

You weren't the one for me, I swear
That even though you didn't care
You said you did each time I asked

I fell in love with a death wish
I fell in love with a death wish
I ask me why must I do this
I fell in love with a death wish

He said I love you solely
But I can taste the honey
Honey in his words
That drip with half truths and half lies
I should have known
It's no surprise the way he looked me in my eyes
And said I love you but his was half true

You weren't the one for me, I swear
That even though you didn't care
You said you did each time I asked

I fell in love with a death wish
I fell in love with a death wish
I ask me why must I do this
I fell in love with a death wish
And there's no escape

I always fell in love with all the ways you lied
But I don't really know how I survived
Through the games, but I choke
The moon can only promise so much to the sun
But I know, I know
You weren't the one for me, I swear
That even though you didn't care
You said you did each time I asked
Those were the lies we're in the past
Tell all your friends I'm coming back
And tell your sins I do not lack
Keep my name out of your mouth
Or think about me until you drown
