

Cry Tonight

Debbie Gibson

Hey I'm the one he left you for can I come in cause the wolf is at my door he said that it was you now that just don't ring true like it did when I thought he was mine please let me inside

oh I just wanna cry tonight and I know that you'll understand how much I hurt inside cause I know that you know the man I know he had his way with us aren't you afraid he stole your pride out of sight isn't out of mind so don't you wanna cry tonight

Hey did he say you hung the moon and you made it shine in a sky you never knew well I've got news for you I hung the moon too ain't it funny how that moon turns blue when there's someone new can't believe there's someone new.

don't you wanna cry
and I know that you'll understand all the hurt that I feel inside cause I know that you know the man I know the man
I know he had his way with us oh yeah aren't you afraid he stole my pride out of touch isn't out of mind
so don't you wanna cry tonight

oh who would've thought we'd be each others shoulder to cry on life sure holds the strangest surprises and they're not always sweet no.

I just wanna cry tonight and I know that you'll understand
cause I know that you know the man
I know he had his way with us so afraid that he stole your pride
along with the memories I'd like to hide.
