Can you feel the breeze pushing us with ease to where lovers flock
Put your hand in mine, let's take our time, as we start to walk

Born on this lonely star, it's hard to know just who you are
At times the world makes you feel so small
Some people slip on by and fade into the city sky
No chance to get to know them at all
When stranded on this concrete beach with dreams so out of reach
A lost soul, I was stuck in a maze
But when you came to me, you shone a light so I could see
You were the one to brighten my days, ooh-ooh-ooh

If I ruled our words so I could change the name of love
I would call it the everlasting in between you and me
Then all the things that I could never say to you would be so clear, shouted out and cheered
Only then would you know what you mean to me
All I ever want is to be where you are Mapped our destinies onto my heart
Spun a thread to give us cover from the thunder and the rain
Spun a thread, so we can start again

I still remember when I turned my back on you that summer day at the first signs of love
Too young and blind to see a good thing right in front of me
I don't know what I was thinking of
But now whenever we're apart, it weighs upon my heart
I always feel you deep inside of me
If living now without you by my side is a prison cage
Then the two of us together is the only way
I can be free

Oooh - With the world on my shoulders I could feel my heart grow colder with nothing to lose, honey
Oooh - I was looking for a place where I could ease my blackening blues

There were nights when I would cry myself to sleep
It's like we met too late and couldn't keep Guess we ended up taking the long way home
Now that seems like a short lifetime ago
To the one I hurt so badly, now I'm gonna let it show
That I love you more than love itself can know

If I ruled the world so I might change the game of love
I would make it the everlasting of which we used to dream
Then all the things that I could never say to you will come to light, shout it out tonight
Only then would you see what you mean to me

From the day we stumbled upon a romance
To the weekends that we went out to dance
From the little child that remains inside your voice
To the strength in your eyes and in your poise
Gonna keep everything that you are to me, so closely to my heart
Put your hand in mine, as we begin to walk
Can you feel the breeze that's pushing us along
To where we lovers flock
