

Terrified

Debbii Dawson

I stay up all night reading stories
Like how the whole world, it will end up in flames
And all things that hide in the dark
Whatever lives past the stars
One day the sun will stop burning
California, they say it might drift out to sea
And all of the planets will fall
But I don't feel nothing at all

Tell me why storms don't scare me
No ocean's too deep
But when love comes and knocks on my door
I wanna hide, I'm better on my own
Baby, I don't mind earthquakes
But you make my world shake
All the way down to my core
I don't why, I'm terrified
Of loving you the most

I stay up all night being worried
Building up my defences, now they're all I've got
At least in the end I'm prepared
Maybe I'm beyond repair
I rehearse the lines
Say I'm doing fine
I act like I don't even care
While I look for you everywhere

Tell me why storms don't scare me
No ocean's too deep
But when love comes and knocks on my door
I wanna hide, I'm better on my own
Baby, I don't mind earthquakes
But you make my world shake
All the way down to my core
I don't why, I'm terrified
Of loving you the most

Tell me why storms don't scare me
No ocean's too deep
But when love comes and knocks on my door
I wanna hide, I'm better on my own
Baby, I don't mind earthquakes
But you make my world shake
All the way down to my core
I don't why, I'm terrified
Of loving you the most
