

Friends For Life

Debby Boone

Thoughts of the soul
Shared with compassion
Everlasting trust in a
Common goal
Always forgiving
Ever building
True friends for life

Loyalty
Hearts in communion
Mutual union built on a
Sympathy
Growing together
Through whatever
True friends for life

As sorrow demands that someone would care
So joy commands that its joy be should be shared
Iron sharpens iron to strength in the end, and so
Faith and good are the wounds of a
Friend for life
A patient and caring
Sanctuary
Formed as we're
Sharing strife
Always protecting
Not neglecting
True friends for life

As water reflects the face of a man
So a man's heart can be shown by his friend
And if I am molded by what I love, it's you
You've taught me lovingly how to be

Friends for life
Encouraged to be
What we should be Committed to
Make things right
Sacred companion
Take my hand
We'll be friends for life
