

Unconditional Love

Debby Boone

I feel your pain, I share your loneliness
Your tears are my tears, too
We're all the same in the eyes of love
So when you're all out of solutions
And when you feel you've had enough
And you're surrounded with confusion
Don't give up

Somebody cares, somebody hears you
Somebody knows your name
Somebody sees your heart as an empty cup
Let me fill it up, with
Unconditional love

I see the storm, the clouds are thundering
Your hopes are washing away
But after rain something's bound to grow
So when you think there is no shelter
And your time is running out
He's your brother, I'm your sister
And we can say without a doubt

Somebody cares, somebody needs you
Somebody knows your name
Somebody feels your heart getting ready to break
Let me heal it up, with
Unconditional love

So when you think there is no shelter
And your time is running out
He's your brother, I'm your sister
And we can say without a doubt

Somebody cares, somebody needs you
Somebody knows your name
Somebody feels your heart getting ready to break
Let me heal it up, with
Unconditional love

Let me heal it up
There's still time enough
Let me fill it up with
Unconditional love
