Homesick

Declan J Donovan

You look so peaceful in our bed
I didn't wanna wake you when I left
To catch my plane

And I'll be trailing through the sky
Just another silhouette up high
Before you wake

You tell me that you had that dream again
When I didn't have to go
I wish that we could live inside your head

And I know that you'll feel better
When you're sat there in my sweater
That I gave you to remember
Being on the sofa next to me
And I'm waking up at 6AM
To call before you go to bed
And tell you 'bout the day I've planned
And listen to the one you had

And when I'm homesick
I got you on my home screen
So anywhere I'm going
I know that you'll be with me
Until I hold you darling

Your friends, they ask you all the time
Why'd you wanna wait another night?
When I'm not home

And nothing seems to settle down
Just another day, another town
And we're alone

But I can never let this go to waste
The further that I go
The more I seem to love you everyday

And I know that you'll feel better
When you're sat there in my sweater
That I gave you to remember
Being on the sofa next to me
And I'm waking up at 6AM
To call before you go to bed
And tell you 'bout the day I've planned
And listen to the one you had

And when I'm homesick
I got you on my home screen
So anywhere I'm going
I know that you'll be with me
Until I hold you

When I'm homesick
I got you on my home screen
So anywhere I'm going

I know that you'll be with me
Until I hold you darling

I know that you'll feel better
When you're sat there in my sweater
That I gave you to remember
Being on the sofa next to me

And when I'm homesick
I got you on my home screen
So anywhere I'm going
I know that you'll be with me
Until I hold you

When I'm homesick
I got you on my home screen
So anywhere I'm going
I know that you'll be with me
Until I hold you darling
