

Human Way

Declan J Donovan

Where are we going, where have been
There's so much left still unseen
There's a world out there just waiting
Stop to think about your life
Understand the joy inside
'Cause it's over far too quickly

Is there still time,
To live your life?
Have you been holding back,
So long, so long, so long?
Is it too late,
To show them your best?
Have you been holding back,
So long, so long, so long?
That's the human way

It's easy to stand around and wait
It's easy for us to contemplate
All the things we could have been
But take a moment just to breathe
A little air is all you need
And the world will still be turning

Is there still time,
To live your life?
Have you been holding back,
So long, so long, so long?
Is it too late,
To show them your best?
Have you been holding back,
So long, so long, so long?
That's the human way

Oh
That's the human way
That's the human way
That's the human way

Is there still time,
To live your life?
Have you been holding back,
So long, so long, so long?
Is it too late,
To show them your best?
Have you been holding back,
So long, so long, so long?
That's the human way
