

Jumpstarting

Deer Tick

Afraid to say that you need a jumpstarting
Anything to get you off of that cross
If you feel like your friends are parting
I can be your rock

Afraid to say that there are no more chances
There were all yesterdays to lose
If the world doesn't leave you enchanted
I'll be there for you

And if they really don't know
And if they really don't care
Well if they don't know or care
I care

It seems to me like you're feeling so sorry
Like a string of old rosary beads
Tucked away let them be forgotten
And I'll be your beliefs

I know you may find the darkness soothing
You think you need it no matter what the cost
The hands of the clock don't seem to be moving
But you can't find time to get lost

And if they really don't know
And if they really don't care
Well if they don't know or care
I care
Care

Well if they really don't know
Well if they really don't care

Well if they really don't know
Well if they really don't care
Well if they don't know or care
I care
Yeah

Well if they really don't know
Well if they really don't care
Well if they don't know or care
I care
Care

Afraid to say that there are no more chances
There were all yesterdays to lose
If the world doesn't leave you enchanted
I'll be there for you
I'll be there for you
I'll be there for you
I'll be there for you
