

Divine Comedy

Deerhoof

You are a sympathetic string
Turned on by the impossible
Which is what is happening now
Told to blow up onscreen from the possible
Which is not happening now
You say, okay
You're resonating higher than the song that's playing

It only hits your notes by accident
And you're living off some stray overtones
Match your breath to the singer's breath
But she's selling you a cigarette to breathe through
The song says, move your body
Keep your body active
Your body responds to toning
Not untrue, but why must it be that song?