

Meltdown Upshot: No. 7, Rapture

Deerhoof

Think of me right before you close your eyes
Clear your mind and come to me
You can build everything you
In my world redesign your destiny

Vanishing, vanishing, spiral downwards

This could be the beginning of the end
Into what you can't begin
This could be the new meaning of your life
Changing what your life can be

Vanishing, vanishing, spiral downwards

Think of me right before you close your eyes
Clear your mind and come to me
You can build everything you
In my world redesign your destiny

Vanishing, vanishing, spiral downwards

This could be the beginning of the end
Into what you can't begin
This could be the new meaning of your life
Changing what your life can be

Vanishing, vanishing, spiral downwards

To the end, new beginnings
