

Innocent Man

Default

Too many times the clouds in the sky turn to grey
You've been there before
You've opened that door
Now you've been blamed
Swear on your life since you've been alive
You'd never walk that road
Misunderstood won't do any good
You're on your own

What's in their eyes is black and white
And in your mind you know what's right

Thrown in a world you're forced to live
With no one to lend you a hand
Down in a hole that won't forgive
Now only God understands
You're an innocent man

The thoughts in your head will all go unsaid as days go by
The price you will pay
The live that you'll trade
Just say good-bye
You're down on your knees
You beg and you plead
And you can't change

What's in their eyes is black and white
And in your mind you know what's right

Thrown in a world you're forced to live
With no one to lend you a hand
Down in a hole that won't forgive
You've done all the fighting you can
Wish you were back where you began
Now only God understands
Down in a hole that won't forgive
Now you're an innocent man

Cry
When no one ever hears
Lie
You're alone with your own tears
There's no one to take you all away
No, it's time to be changed

Thrown in a world you're forced to live
With no one to lend you a hand
Down in a hole that won't forgive
You've done all the fighting you can
Wish you were back where you began
With no one to lend you a hand
Down in a hole that won't forgive
Now you're an innocent man
