

Sleepless

Defences

Imagine, her eyes are glistening
And now they're wondering
Where has she been?
Where has she been?
Terrified, no they don't sleep at night
Too hard to close their eyes
And say goodnight

Staring at the ceiling
Waiting for an answer
So tell me where does it end
And where do I begin?
I've been thrown off the rhythm

Honestly, can you imagine?
Sitting alone his mind is racing
Just another broken boy with broken dreams
Can't seem to close our eyes for anything, just waiting
The sun will rise, the day unchanged
And still we lay

Staring at the ceiling
Waiting for an answer
So tell me where does it end
And where do I begin?
I've been thrown off the rhythm
Staring at the ceiling
Waiting for an answer
So tell me where does it end
And where do I begin?
I've been thrown off the rhythm

Imagine
Glistening
Where has she been?
Where has she been?

Staring at the ceiling
Waiting for an answer
So tell me where does it end
And where do I begin?
I've been thrown off the rhythm
Staring at the ceiling
Waiting for an answer
So tell me where does it end
And where do I begin?
I've been thrown off the rhythm
