Into the Darkness You Go

Deicide

Purtridness upon the earth, a waste to all mankind days are numbered, mark thy word, in time you will subside death, down to the flames of belial, in through the gates of de nial screaming and begging for god, belong to Satan now chained in torment, till the end of hell and heaven's reign suffering in your damnation forever and a day tribulation, destiny, the verge of your demise memories of all you've done, to haunt your afterlife hell, coming to fast to repel, into the pit of dispel leaving the body and soul, into the darkness you go uncalled by name destroy you, and naught exist no more

In life the light you followed, has left you in its horror darken thee aspirations, upon the path you seek the signs are all around you, dead is your god belief Purtridness upon the earth, a waste to all mankind days are numbered, mark thy word, in time you will subside death, down to the flames of belial, in through the gates of de nial screaming and begging for god, belong to Satan now