

Dusk

Deinonychus

earth weeps as tears • red from the sky • falling upon unhallow ed ground • the suffering went silence • as no screams are to b e heard • many prayers left to be unanswered • we have been for saken • stabbed and strangled remembering only sheer terror and pain • where is that savior • the one shining so bright • rele asing us from this endless agony • all around is the eye of ign orance and denial looking the other way • no anniversaries for you are forgotten • there is no place to say your prayers • dee p below you are buried • never to be free • As we mourn • into eternity we dwell • you with your eyes closed • we will come an d get you • for you are damned