

Encircled By Nothingness

Deivos

The fading debris of what was once alive
Obedience has misled them. Brains fucked

Praised be the forces that annihilate the breathing
And yet they heal scorching the promised land
With their fiery licks cleansing it from the weeds
Witch grow strong

Open these bleeding eyes Stand tall to see your bitter enslavement in lifeless desolation

Their crawling thoughts assault when we sleep
Unspiritual standardized phrases Sickening words come pouring from the deadened tongues

Immemorial injustice what should not be lives on Submerged in the shallow drifts
Planting hate within the minds of noble ones

Make our path free of their flesh
As spirit dies in pain pitched into the stagnant chasm the stench of flesh is so unbearable
Its fumes enforce the terror of poisoning nothingness

The carnival of joyous flock pretending life
Is to be swept away by the omnipotence of anger Dormant within until
The enchanter's of vengeance call our names

See them rejoicing
Among the remnants of shattered world
Foes of creation enlightened by the dark

Shut your dying eyes The time has come you'll perish in eternal sleep enslaved in lifeless desolation
