

This for the girls that don't need no makeup when they wake up
For the ones who rockin' lace fronts, you know, I ain't gon' say nothing
Hashtag and you're single, you fresh off the break-up
For the introverts, no, we don't gotta say much

If you feel free then you should lift your hands
Real love, less friends
So many things in this world I don't understand
I won't judge who you love or your brown skin

People gettin' liberated
Get up on your feet if you got the feeling
Hey, get up on your feet
People gettin' liberated
Get up on your feet if you got the feeling
Get up on your feet
People gettin' liberated

Fighting back for so long, baby, break on out of your chains
You don't have to aim to please, or be a certain way
Don't aspire to be what you see in the magazines
There's only one you, and one me

If you feel free then you should lift your hands
Wanna shake it, baby (shake it, baby) like I know you can
So many things in this world I don't understand
I won't judge who you love, or your brown skin

People gettin' liberated
Get up on your feet if you got the feeling
Hey, get up on your feet
Say, people gettin' liberated
Get up on your feet if you got the feeling
Hey, get up on your feet
People gettin' liberated

I was young, I was [?], what you reap is what you sow
Life ain't always sunny, don't get caught up in the glow
And I don't know it all but I see as I grow
Can't take the pain away 'cause it's in my soul

If you feel free then you should lift your hands
Wanna shake it, baby (wanna shake it, baby) like I know you can
So many things in this world I don't understand
I won't judge who you love, or your brown skin

People gettin' liberated
Hey, get up on your feet if you got the feeling
(You got the feeling) You can be free
Get up on your feet (Ooh)
Say, people gettin' liberated
Get up on your feet if you got the feeling
(You ain't gotta worry no more)
Get up on your feet
