

Someone Else Will

Del Amitri

I ain't gonna laugh at this no more
Or let it just slip by
I ain't gonna watch this till I choke on the lie

I ain't gonna take this anymore
I ain't sitting quiet
You can tranquilize my mind with phony hope
I don't buy it, no, I don't buy it

'Cause you will kill me when you have to
And you will tie me to the table
And you will tell me that you don't want to
But if you don't, yeah, you know someone else will
You know someone else will

And I ain't gonna listen anymore
Obedient and polite
And I ain't letting killers so like me sleep tonight

And I ain't gonna play my part no more
Their sentence, it ain't right
'Cause you can think you're free but I'll leave you
To serve my time, serve my time

'Cause you will kill me when you have to
And you will tie me to the table
And you will tell me that you don't want to
But if you don't, yeah, you know someone else will

You know someone else will
You know someone else will
You know someone else will
